

Volunteer Management University

for Volunteer Managers

- ◆ New to the volunteer management field?
- ◆ Do you want to achieve greater results with your volunteers?
- ◆ Want to learn the latest in volunteer management?

Nearly half of all South Dakotans volunteer their time in the community they call home. Whether it's helping at a non-profit agency, mentoring a youth, coaching a sports team, teaching art, promoting education or working in a church environment, a volunteer's time is extremely valuable.

Are the volunteers in your community making the best possible impact on your town?

8:30 a.m.—4:30 p.m.
Wednesday & Thursday, August 24 & 25, 2011

Chiesman Foundation for Democracy
1641 Deadwood Ave., Rapid City

The HELP!Line Center is again offering their two-day course to help Black Hills area nonprofit groups become as effective and efficient as possible in volunteer management. Volunteer Management University is a comprehensive series of six courses, developed by the Points of Light Foundation, featuring the essentials of volunteer management. The interactive curriculum is based on research and effective practices in volunteer management. To date, over 125 volunteer managers have been through this program.

To register, e-mail ralmy@chiesman.org no later than Weds., August 17.

Cost: $50.00/participant.

Space is limited—register today!

